

Where will your clients be when the bull market turns bear?

Since March 2009, the S&P 500 has gained 256%. Pretty impressive, right? But, as history has shown us, when long-run bull markets end, the decline can be pretty dramatic.

This chart shows the historical decline that has occurred after a long bull market.

Where will your clients be if this current market faces a similar decline? The average bull market lasts around five years, so now may be the time to talk about moving some gains into a lower-risk option.

Consider recommending to your clients that they move a portion of their portfolio into fixed-indexed annuities from Great American Life®, which feature:

- The opportunity to participate in market growth with a guarantee that the account value will never go down unless the client takes a withdrawal
- A guaranteed minimum surrender value
- Optional riders that add even more benefits
- The strength of a highly rated company. Great American Life is rated “A+” by Standard & Poor’s and “A” (Excellent) by A.M. Best

Sources for S&P data: S&P Equity Research and DQYDJ.com S&P 500 Return Calculator and www.gold-eagle.com/article/history-us-bear-bull-markets-1929. Past performance is no guarantee of future results. S&P rating affirmed February 8, 2017; A.M. Best rating affirmed May 12, 2016. Riders are optional and available for an additional charge. All guarantees based on the claims-paying ability of Great American Life. Products issued by Great American Life Insurance Company®, Cincinnati, Ohio.

© 2017 by Great American Life Insurance Company. All rights reserved.

For Producer Use Only. Not for Use in Sales Solicitation.